How to Select the SC Area of Concentration and Certification Level

By default, the SC Area of Concentration (AoC) field contains a the recommended SC AoC that appears in the Calculated Area of Concentration field. The recommended AoC is calculated based on the allocation of time dedicated by the position to Security Cooperation (SC) Functions and the organization in which the positions reside.

SCWD-D users may change the SC Area of Concentration, SC Certification Level, or Intermediate elective courses required if it is determined a more appropriate AoC, level, or elective course is applicable to the position. (The Calculated Area of Concentration field will remain static for future reference if you want to revert back to the recommended AoC based on the SCWD-D's calculation.)

NOTE: Each DoD component may have differing guidance on who determines the most appropriate AoC and certification level, but generally this information is expected to come from the supervisors of the positions and/or your organization's leadership.
